Bridal Planner

12 Weeks Before

- Pre-book your appointment for hair color or highlights to ensure gorgeous hair for pre-wedding parties and showers.
- Pre-book your trial up-style and make-up appointments. If you are planning to have bridal portraits made, this would be the perfect day for your trial run.
- Pre-book all wedding day appointments for yourself and your wedding party including appointments for the groom, bridesmaids, and mothers of the bride and groom.

8 Weeks Before

- Finalize any appointments to ensure that we have reserved sufficient time for each guest.
- To ensure that your stylist knows exactly what you want for your wedding day, come in for a practice run on your up-style and make-up. Bring photos that you have collected from magazines or online that show the type of bridal hairstyle that you are seeking. Also, bring in photos of your wedding dress. If you have a slim gown with clean lines and minimal beading, your hair should also have clean lines. If you're wearing a creation straight from a fairy tale, then by all means, go for long, flowing hair and lots of texture.

2 Weeks Before

- Come in for your final color or highlight appointment. We recommend that you do not try a drastic change in your hairstyle or color this close to the wedding. You may want to consider having a complimentary chemistry system treatment to make your hair shiny and healthy for your special day.
- Give a final confirmation of the number of people booked for hair and make-up services for the wedding day.

Wedding Day

- Arrive at the salon for your appointment with clean, dry hair if you are having your hair styled at the salon.
- Have your up-style created and make-up applied as well as hairstyles and makeup for the bridal party.

Remember to bring your veil if you would like for us to place it for you.
